THOUSANDS ATTEND BATTLE ANNIVERSARY

Harrisonburg, Va., May 15.—In the presence of thousands of visitors, including 359 cadets from the Virginia Military Institute, Lexington, the celebration of the fifty-fifth anniversary of the battle of New Market was held today at the historic town of New Market, Shenandoah County.

This morning the cadets and a large body of Confederate veterans traversed the same ground covered by the Virginia Military Institute boys in 1864, after which they returned to the Bushong House, where they were addressed by Colonel A. B. Colonna, of Washington.

This afternoon at the memorial exercises the address was delivered by Judge Samuel W. Williams, of Westville, former Attorney-General of Virginia, who though a mere boy, was a brave soldier in the Civil War.

J. H. Clarkson, of Chicago, who was a member of Company B, of the corps of '61, was the first war cadet to reach New Market yesterday. He motored from Harrisonburg, with Mrs. Clarkson and their son, Cadet Sergeant Major C. C. Clarkson, who stands at the head of his class at the Virginia Military Institute.

The Virginia Military Institute boys will take the train for Lexington on Saturday morning, after breaking camp at New Market. They marched the entire distance the past week from Lexington to New Market, taking the historic Valley Turnpike and were royally received and treated all along the way.

The parade was a feature which received much praise. Led by the mounted police and the Boy Scouts, about 400 business men in automobiles and on foot formed the procession. They started promptly at 8 o'clock from Washington Square, and, proceeding over May's bridge, arrived at Sixth and Main streets at 3 1/2 o'clock.

All the evidence was finished yesterday in Harrisonburg. It is the trial of Carter L. Russell, of 121 North Sycamore Street, charged with a serious crime against Miss Cassie Bower, of Fifeville, and her mother, Mrs. Bower.

Russell is represented by attorneys Gilbert K. Pollock and Samuel Kelley.

Membership Campaign. A membership campaign has been launched by Manchester Lodge, No. 343, Brevoyard, and Protective Order of Elks, and the committee in charge of the work report great success.

"Oh! I feel SO THANKFUL!" Sincere Gratitude Expressed by Lady After Being Delivered From a Very Low State.

"Hayne, N. C.—'I feel it my duty,'" says Mrs. Z. V. Spell, of this place, "to tell everybody how much good Cardul, the woman's tonic, has done for me."

Last spring I suffered dreadfully from womanly troubles, and was in a very low state of health; was not able to be up to attend to any of my duties.

We finally consulted our family physician, and he advised me to try Cardul, the woman's tonic, which I did, and soon I began to feel better. After using seven or eight bottles I was able to do my housework.

I am now able to do all of my work and take care of my children. I feel so thankful for the benefit I have received that I shall heartily recommend Cardul to all similarly afflicted women."

If you, lady reader, suffer from any of the numerous ills so common to your sex, try Cardul. It has been helping weak, nervous, worn-out women for over half a century, and will help you, too.

Cardul is a perfectly harmless vegetable extract of mild-acting, medicinal, tonic herbs. It is the ideal strengthening medicine for women.

Cardul regulates irregularities, tones up the womanly organs and brings back the brightness of health. Get a bottle to-day.

DR. CHANDLER FAVORS SCHOOL SOCIAL CENTRE

Superintendent Principal Suenker at Formal Opening of John H. Cary Library.

Dr. J. A. C. Chandler, in speaking at the formal opening of the John H. Cary School Library last night, favored the idea of a school social center, and in making each school a center, circulating branch of the public library, for which every city organization in the city is now working.

Dr. Chandler was the principal speaker of the evening. After relating the facts of the life of John H. Cary, who was the first superintendent of the Richmond public schools, and it is fitting that the Cary school be named, Dr. Chandler took up his remarks on the value of a school and public library.

The opening of the library was attended by an audience which taxed to the capacity the school's auditorium. An attractive program of speeches, music and motion pictures had been arranged and was thoroughly enjoyed. The library was the memorial gift of T. A. Cary, and consists of more than 600 volumes.
